A Message from the Penn State Actuarial Science Club

The Penn State Actuarial Science Club is pleased to host the 2023 Penn State Actuarial Career Fair.

The Penn State Actuarial Science Club is a student-run organization for those who are interested in pursuing an actuarial degree in actuarial science, mathematics, or statistics. A career as an actuary demands a strong knowledge of math, economics, finance, and risk management in the business world. It is a highly challenging but rewarding career for those who enjoy critical thinking and problem solving.

The club aims to provide students with a better understanding of the actuarial field while supporting the development of their professional career. Students have the ability to meet professional actuaries as well as other like-minded actuarial students. Students are exposed to real life actuarial applications and are provided with study resources for actuarial exams.

Testimonial

"Throughout the summer, I really enjoyed the interactions I had with my coworkers. As an intern it is easy to feel like you are wasting somebody's time by setting up a chat with them, but nobody at Aetna, from Leadership to new hires, ever made me feel that way. The Intern Committee did a great job at facilitating interactions, and I was happy to meet so many social and engaging colleagues. All of these interactions were amazing and really made the summer fun!"
